

SHANGHAI SILK GUILD APPEALS FOR ASSISTANCE

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]
SHANGHAI, Jan. 25.—To tide over the effects of the depression in the silk market, the Shanghai Silk and Cotton guild has sent an appeal for aid to the Peking government. Due to the dull market more than 10,000 silk workers were idle this month and 20 filatures in Shanghai had been closed. Customs returns here show that 9562 bales of silk were exported from June 1 to Nov. 10, against 17,917 bales for the same period in 1919. More than 16,000 bales were held in godowns (warehouses) of Chinese and foreign exporters. In this period the price of first class filature silk fell from $1.12 per bale to $0.80 odd, with no buyers in the market.

PARIS INFESTED WITH U. S. YEGGS

[N. E. A. Staff Special]
PARIS, Jan. 25.—Paris is ridden with American bandits and the French police may appeal to the American state department for aid in chasing them back home. If the state department were to ask the Paris police to make every American in the city show his passport, the crooks could be separated from the respectable Americans. Most of the American crooks in Paris are deserters from the army or seamen who left their ships at French ports and avoided passport regulations. "Hard-boiled" Americans are blamed for auto thefts, auto banditry and bold apartment house burglaries. It is estimated that 400 of them are in Paris. When they are not "on the job" they are in the gay cafes in the light light section of the city, spending money like gentlemen of leisure.

Lisbon Merchant Checks Bank Run

LISBON, Jan. 25.—One of the oldest and best known bankers of this city was recently saved from the effects of a run on his bank by a sensational incident. A large crowd of depositors had gathered at the office of the banker, J. H. Totta, to demand their money. The street was blocked by them. The firm was paying out the money rapidly when a well known Lisbon merchant who was a spectator of the rush on the bank, enraged by the scene, jumped on the counter and reviled the crowd in no measured language. He recalled the honorable name of the head of the firm and said that by his kindly aid many of those present had reaped fortunes, but their base ingratitude was now threatening to bring about his ruin. As his eloquence increased, an extraordinary transformation scene took place. Someone raised a cheer which was echoed by thousands. The bank employees who had calmly been paying out thousands of pounds to all who claimed their deposits were embraced by the depositors, checks were torn to pieces and the elder Totta, 80 years of age, was dragged from an inner office and raised on the shoulders of the crowd amid cheers. Since then the bank has received nearly all the money that had been withdrawn.

The affair is an outcome of the reflection in Portugal of the stringent financial and economic situation which seems to prevail in the markets of Europe. Business in Lisbon was virtually at a standstill in part of last month owing to the continued fall in the rate of exchange which, in the opinion of the Portuguese, attained alarming proportions. The situation was aggravated also by a new financial program which threatened to make a heavy increase in taxation. Other factors which have contributed to the depression are bad crops, excess of imports over exports, shortage of foodstuffs and fuel, profiteering and incessant strikes.

WANT A SKYSCRAPER?

What do you do with your "small change"? The tallest skyscrapers in America's two largest cities, New York and Chicago, went up on nickels and dimes in the hands of men who knew the value of "change." The $3,000,000 Wrigley building, Chicago's tallest, is nearing completion, a monument to America's appetite for chewing-gum. It measures 393 feet from the ground up. New York's giant, the Woolworth building, 793½ feet high, was built with ten-cent store dimes.

Unconsciousness from suffocation is due to cutting off the supply of oxygen to the lungs.

In cases where persons are overcome by smoke or gas, revive them to the nearest point where the atmosphere is clear.

In mild cases, walking the patient up and down in the open air and giving an effervescent drink to cause belching and thereby relieve the accompanying nausea may be all that is required. In severe cases, when the patient is still breathing, a few drops of ammonia water sprinkled on the handkerchief and held under his nose, once a minute, is beneficial, and if he can swallow, give one-half (½) teaspoonful of aromatic spirits of ammonia in half a glass of water.

If breathing has ceased, loosen the collar and any tight clothing around the neck and chest, and use artificial respiration, continuing this at least two hours, or until the patient begins to breathe regularly of his own accord. Then put the patient to bed and give stimulants.

In all cases of suffocation send for a doctor at once, but do not wait for his arrival before starting artificial respiration.

Whooping Cough
My little grandson has had whooping-cough six weeks, has been whooping two weeks, he coughs very little, some days he whoops once or twice, a very little bit. I wanted to take him home, but he has a baby brother two months old, and the doctor said he thought as long as this one whooped the baby would take it, and I have been told that I would have to wait 18 days.

While whooping-cough may be regarded as one of the milder infections in the case of older children, in infancy it is one of the most fatal. In a young baby whooping-cough in winter may easily become complicated with broncho-pneumonia, so you see the danger of exposing the little one to this disease. Do not take the older boy home till the spasmodic stage (whooping) is quite over.

Heart Trouble
I am a girl 17 years old, and have been troubled with my heart. It pains very often, sometimes so badly that I can hardly breathe. Our family doctor says it is not heart trouble, but acid in my stomach. He gave me some medicine, but it does not help me any. It pains more than ever.

I am sure you were glad to learn that the pain you had supposed was due to heart trouble was caused by stomach trouble instead. I should advise you to continue treatment for the stomach trouble since when that is cured you will probably have no more pain in the region of your heart. Ask your doctor to prescribe a suitable diet, and carry out all his directions with great care. Get all the open air exercise you can without overfatigue, and plenty of fresh air and sleep. Make up your mind to help the doctor to cure your stomach.

trouble, and your heart will probably take care of itself.

Appendicitis
I had an operation for appendicitis a few years ago, and got along fine at the time, but have had continual trouble since. It would hurt at times so I would be unable to do my house work. I have been to many doctors and they don't seem to know what it is or what to do. It is getting worse all the time. It is not uncommon to have a certain form of trouble following an operation, but this can usually be corrected. I refer to the formation of adhesions following the first operation, and these sometimes have to be broken up by a second operation. I would advise you to consult a good surgeon.

NEW REVOLUTION IN SALVADOR IS EXPECTED IN '21

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Jan. 25.—Apprehensions of another revolution in the republic of Salvador which may begin early this year are entertained here. The Unionist party in that country is reported to be convinced that the Salvadorian government is opposed to the proposed union of five Central American republics—Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Salvador—and to be making all preparations for an uprising. In this they are said to have the sympathy of the Unionists of Guatemala, who a few months ago overthrew Estrada Cabrera as president. Reports received here state that the revolutionary movement in Salvador has the moral support of 80 per cent of the people.

One phase of the present apparently serious situation in Salvador is the result of a sort of coup d'etat by which Carlos Melendez turned over the presidency to his brother Jorge, which is alleged to be unconstitutional. Following this the revolutionary movement was undertaken with Arturo Araujo as its leader. Araujo is a wealthy engineer and landowner of Salvador and chief of the Republican Unionist party, one of the most prominent men of Central America, and has spent millions of dollars for the benefit of public institutions.

To stop the revolutionary movement, the government conducted a series of arrests and deportations. Honduras refused to permit arms to pass through its territory to the rebel forces in Salvador and consequently the revolution failed and Araujo fled to Honduras, escaping government troops sent after him by order of the president who demanded Araujo dead or alive.

The leaders of this revolutionary movement are now in Guatemala preparing to again try to overthrow Melendez. It is believed here that the government and revolutionary forces will come to a clash some time early this year unless the United States intervenes. Most of the foreign element in Salvador is reported to be in favor of Araujo and against Melendez whose sentiments against the United States and Mexico are a matter of common report. Most of the thinking people of Central America want peace and believe it can be secured only by a guarantee of the United States.
